Gregory P. Turza, J.D., practices exclusively in the area of estate planning, post-mortem estate administration and elder law. He has helped individuals plan their estates for nearly 40 years, providing practical and effective answers to complex problems with explanations that are clear, cogent and accurate.

Mr. Turza teaches estate planning to certified public accountants, certified financial planners and other attorneys. NBI and Lawline (link to presentations)

He is a member of Wealth Counsel as well as the Trusts and Estates Committee of the Chicago Bar Association. He is co-chairman of the Education Committee of the Illinois/Wisconsin Estate Planning Forum, where he teaches his colleagues cutting-edge estate planning techniques.

Mr. Turza believes that an estate plan should be not only technically correct, but also clear and understandable so that each client feels "at home" with it. Our aim is that surviving family members find themselves in harmony instead of in court. To achieve this result Mr. Turza creates plans that suit each client's unique financial, personal and family circumstances.

Mr. Turza received his law degree from Indiana University School of Law in 1974. He is licensed to practice law in Illinois. He is also licensed in Indiana and California (but does not maintain active practices there).
